

Press release

Spartanburg, 2023-02-03

Lebbing US will be represented by Jagenberg Converting Solutions in the USA from now on

The goal of the Jagenberg Group of companies is to be a reliable partner and solution provider for a wide range of roll-to-roll applications.

Besides our global presence, we also strive to continuously expand our portfolio.

In 2020, the company Jagenberg Converting Solutions was founded to provide our customers with turn-key solutions for web converting. It allows us to combine the competences of our group of companies and to respond excellently to the specific requirements of our customers.

It was important to us to extend this offer of services to you, our customers in the United States as well. Therefore, we have decided to integrate the activities of Lebbing automation & drives US Corp. into Jagenberg Converting Solutions US, Inc.

Of course, you will still receive the high-quality service of Lebbing that you are used to. In addition, we will be then able to offer you comprehensive process technology, mechanical upgrades and new machines for web converting besides the already existing services.

As we prioritize the personal relationship with our customer, your usual contact persons will certainly remain available to you in future as well.

We are looking forward to continuously be serving you with your projects and needs.

Page 1 / 2

About Jagenberg Converting Solutions GmbH:

Within the Jagenberg Group, Jagenberg Converting Solutions GmbH offers turnkey solutions from a single source as a reliable, competent and innovative partner. The company bundles the competences and many years of experience of more than 500 employees from companies in the Jagenberg Group and supplements these with solutions from strategic partners depending on the requirements. The focus of business activities is on the supply of solutions and services required for the finishing of sophisticated web-shaped materials for the energy industry and advanced surface applications.

www.jagenberg-converting.com

About Lebbing automation & drives GmbH:

Lebbing is specialized in turnkey drive-, control, SCADA- and data systems for endless web production facilities. From conceptual design to project planning, through the entire project duration right up to after-sales service (24/7) we are available to our customers.

www.lebbing.com

About Jagenberg AG:

Jagenberg AG, part of the Kleinewefers Group and headquartered in Krefeld, Germany, is a strategic management holding company that currently employs around 1,300 people in its 23 operating affiliates in the Industrial Solutions sector in Europe, Asia and the USA. The Jagenberg Group is focused on the Industrial Solutions division, whose core business areas relate to machines and systems, automation and control technology, and digital solutions for processing web-shaped materials such as films or paper.

www.jagenberg.com

Press Contact

Jagenberg AG

Silke Löser

Communication and Marketing Manager

Kleinewefersstr. 1, 47803 Krefeld, Germany

Tel. +49 2151 / 93 40 99-81

E-Mail: silke.loeser@jagenberg.com